On Science Night we had many different science activities to do and this is one of them. We made lava lamps with oil, salt, water and food colouring! People looked like they were having tons of fun and were very fascinated by the outcome of the experiment.
This is Harry with the guest scientist that came to show us one of his experiments.
Hibak's family made paper helicopters that fly. They cut out the helicopter and used paper clips to make it stable to fly.